watch the video "nets of solids" open and close the net to explore how the 2d shape transforms into a 3d shape with your partner discuss the properties of the net and what properties change and which do not when the net is folded into a rectangular prism

Nets of solids (3-D shapes) - GeoGebra

A geometry net is a 2-dimensional shape that can be folded to form a 3-dimensional shape or a solid. Or a net is a pattern made when the surface of a three-dimensional figure is laid out flat showing each face of the figure. A solid may have different nets. Here are some steps to determine whether a net forms a solid:

I highly recommend printing the nets on stock paper rather than regular paper. I have tried it both ways, and regular paper is just too flimsy. After printing, simply cut out the 3d shape nets on the solid lines.. If you've printed on white card stock as I have, take some time to get creative and color

In geometry a net of a polyhedron is an arrangement of non-overlapping edge-joined polygons in the plane which can be folded (along edges) to become the faces of the polyhedron. Polyhedral nets are a useful aid to the study of polyhedra and solid geometry in general, as they allow for physical models of polyhedra to be constructed from material such as thin cardboard.
