Abstract. Eight popular nature inspired algorithms are compared with the blind random search and three advanced adaptive variants of differential evolution (DE) on real-world problems benchmark collected for CEC 2011 algorithms competition. The results show the good performance of the adaptive DE variants and their superiority over the other algorithms in the test problems.

Particle swarm optimization (PSO) was developed by Kennedy and Eberhart in 1995 based on the swarm behavior, such as fish and bird schooling in nature, which has generated much interest in the ever-expanding area of swarm intelligence. There are over two dozen PSO variants, and hybridization with other algorithms has also been investigated.
